Degree Validation Diploma (For Institutes, Individuals)

Graduates from the European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation accredited institutions or from institutions of education holding an equivalent accreditation (approved by the EAHEA) may ensure and demonstrate that their education diploma, earned credits, and awarding institution are considered to be bona fide and accredited according to the European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation standards by requesting an EAHEA Degree Validation Diploma. The EAHEA Degree Validation Diploma also specifies the total credits earned and their equivalency in US Semester Credits and European ECTS credits.

What Is The Degree Validation Diploma From EAHEA?

The European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation (EAHEA) is interested in assisting individuals to validate their degrees, validate their diplomas, and recognize earned credits on an international scale. To this end, we have prepared a degree validation procedure that will certify the credit and degree equivalency of any diploma or certification earned at any of the EAHEA accredited institutions. This degree validation document will also endorse the external quality review of the degree, institution, and program of study.

The European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation considers this degree validation document service to be an important and constructive process to facilitate the acceptance of the degrees and credits earned from our accredited institutions.

Note that accreditation is a voluntary and non-governmental process. No accreditation in the world can provide automatic acceptance and degree validation of the credits earned at other institutions, nor does it guarantee the acceptance of graduates by employers. Acceptance of students or graduates is always the prerogative of the receiving institution or employer.

What Are The Benefits Of The Degree Validation Diploma?

You will receive an international degree validation diploma issued by the European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation that will state the following information:

- Your full name
- Verification of the diploma and specialization earned
- Verification of the total credits corresponding to this diploma and specialization
- Verification of the composition of the credit in hours of study
- Certification of the credits equivalency to the US Semester credits system
- Certification of the credits equivalency to Europe
- Assurance that the awarding institution is meeting the EAHEA education quality standards

The EAHEA diploma validation may be useful for the global acceptance of the degrees and credits by employers, professional associations, other institutions, colleges, or universities.

Who May Obtain A Degree Validation Diploma From EAHEA?

The European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation may validate degrees and diplomas from the following educational providers:

1. EAHEA Accredited Institutions: The degree validation document may exclusively be issued to students who have completed a program of study in any of the EAHEA accredited institutions while the accreditation status remains valid. If your school is not included in the list, you may recommend they consider getting the European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation accreditation.

2. Institutions Holding an EAHEA Equivalent Accreditation: This accreditation equivalency will be determined by the European Agency For Higher Education and Accreditation after the application for a degree validation document is submitted by a graduate of such institution of education.
