EAHEA Certification for Teachers and Instructors

If you wish to broaden your employment opportunities and to teach or train in institutions around the world, EAHEA Educator Certification is for you. It gives university academicians, school teachers, language teachers and all types of instructors a credential that documents their ability to teach and to train. It is open to elementary, primary, secondary and high school teachers, college and university teachers, special educators and course instructors.

The certificate is not given at the end of a course or a training, and it is not given to everyone: it is granted only after a detailed review and evaluation of the supporting documents that prove the competencies of each applicant.

What Does EAHEA Educator Certification Give You?

A record of teaching competence: Educators who apply for a teaching job, a visa, a work permit or a residence permit are often asked to document their competence in their field. Your EAHEA Educator Certificate and the Certificate Verification Document give you an independent, verifiable record of your teaching competence that can make this easier. Decisions on visas, permits and employment are made only by the authorities of the country concerned or by employers and institutions, and EAHEA does not guarantee any visa, permit, job, admission or other result.

Be seen by schools and institutions: EAHEA may redraft your resume, prepare a cover letter and an ATS-friendly resume, and forward your profile to recruiters and to EAHEA accredited institutions, without any guarantee of employment.

A credential that builds trust: The EAHEA Certified Educator Badges, which you may use as the Logo & Emblem Usage Guidelines allow, and your listing in the EAHEA Certified Members Directory help students, parents, schools and employers confirm your certification with EAHEA.

Valid for five years, simple to keep current: The certificate is valid for five years and is renewed with a simple renewal invoice. You apply online, and as a certified educator you also receive the EAHEA news alerts and the newsletter, and discounts for EAHEA sponsored events.

How to Apply

- Apply online at apply.eahea.org and answer the questions of the application form.
- Upload your curriculum vitae and the documents that prove your competencies, in electronic format: your passport or ID, your diploma or degree and your certificates.
- Pay the whole price at once, by card or by bank transfer, when you apply.

What Are the Educator Certification Fees?

All service fees follow the World Bank Country Income Classification, and additional discounts may apply depending on the economic situation of the country where you live or operate. For the Educator Certification fees, please visit the Service Fees page.

Validity and renewal: A Educator Certificate is valid for five (5) years from its date of issue. EAHEA sends the renewal invoice before the end of the validity period, and paying the renewal fee (see the Service Fees page) extends the certificate by another validity period. A certificate that is not renewed ends.

Payment: The price is paid at once, in full, when you apply, and the certificate is not awarded until the fee is paid. Fees are not refundable, except an amount that was paid twice or by mistake.

Important Information

The Educator Certificate is a voluntary, independent and non-governmental certificate of EAHEA. It is not an academic degree, a license to practice a profession or to teach, an authorization to work, or an official or government recognition of a qualification. Decisions on visas, permits and employment are made only by the authorities of the country concerned or by employers and institutions, and EAHEA does not guarantee any visa, permit, job, admission or other result. The conditions of the service are in the Educator Certification Regulations and the General Provisions, which are available under Documents and Forms.
